The SPEAKER said that his vote would change the result—that it would make a tie vote and defeat the adoption of that report, and inasmuch as it had already been messaged to the Senate, it would have to be returned before the gentleman could record his vote.

Mr. HERR, from the Judiciary, general, reported the Senate joint resolutions relative to the impeachment of Andrew Johnson and endorsing Edwin M. UNABLE TO AGREE.

Mr. GRIMES, from the Committee of Conference on Invalid Pensions, reported that they had been unable to agree on the provision for reducing the rates of interest on the Naval Pension Fund to three per cent. He moved that the Senate insist, and another Committee be appointed, which was agreed to.

POLITICAL DISABILITIES.

Mr. TRUMBULL called up the bill to relieve the political disabilities of Roderick R. Butler, of Tennessee, which he explained.

Mr. BUCKALEW moved to amend by striking out the words the "Constitution or" in the clause relieving him from disabilities imposed by the "Constitution or acts of Congress." He said it would otherwise have the effect to recognize the fourteenth amendment as valid.

It appearing the Senators desired to debate the bill,

Mr. SHERMAN insisted on the order of the day.

BILL TO RELIEVE MANUFACTURERS.

The Senate took up the bill to relieve certain manufacturers from internal tax.

The question was on the amendments made in Committee.

Mr. MORGAN moved to strike out refined sugar and products of sugar refineries from the amendment of the Committee continuing the tax on various articles.

Mr. MORGAN advocated his amendment.

Mr. SHERMAN and others opposed it.

The amendment was lost—twenty-one against twenty-four.

Mr. MORRILL, Vermont, then offered his amendment, striking out the provision in reference to refined sugars, &c., and inserting one including all sugars except those produced from sorghum or imphee. Rejected,

Mr. VAN WINKLE moved to strike out the amendment of the Committee to section one, leaving it as it passed the House, and striking out the tax on turpentine, coffee, and its substitutes, spices, refined sugars, jewelry, &c. Adopted—18 to 24.

The question recurred on Mr. VAN WINKLE'S amendment, offered Tuesday, reducing the tax on petroleum one-half, and it was adopted—27 to 18.

An amendment of the Committee providing that no drawback shall be made in the exportation of any article after the 1st of April, Mr. MORGAN moved to amend by inserting after the word "drawback" the words "on account of internal taxes paid." Agreed to.

The remaining amendments were agreed to.

Mr. TRUMBULL offered an amendment that on and after the 1st of April, 1868, in lieu of the duty now imposed there shall be levied, collected and paid, in the manner now provided by law, a duty of one dollar per gallon for first proof spirits, other than brandy, manufactured or distilled from grain or other material.

Mr. DAVIS offered a substitute, providing that from and after the 30th day of June next there shall be paid by the distiller, on whiskey of any proof, fifty cents on each and every gallon thereafter distilled, and no more.

Both amendments were lost.

Mr. HENDRICKS moved to amend by adding to the first section the words "On diamonds, emeralds, precious stones and imitations thereof, and on jewelry." Lost.

The bill then passed—yeas thirty-six; nays three—Messrs. Corbett, Fessenden and Fowler.

The bill as passed by the Senate reads as follows:

Be it enacted. &c., That section ninety-four and ninety-five of an act entitled an act to provide internal revenue to support the government, to pay interest on public debt, and for other purposes, approved June 30th, 1864, and all acts and parts of acts amendatory of said sections, be and the same are hereby repealed, except only so much of said sections and amendments thereto as relates to taxes imposed thereby on gas made of coal, oil, wholly or in part of any other material, or illuminating oils, or articles the products of distillation, redistillation or refining of coal, shale, peat, asphaltum, or other bituminous substances, or wines, therein described, or snuff, and all the other manufactures of tobacco, including cigarettes, cigars and cheroots; provided, that the products of petroleum and bituminous substances hereinbefore mentioned, except illuminating gas, shall from and after the passage of this act be taxed at one-half the rates fixed by said section ninety-four.

The bill is as follows:

SPECIAL POSTOFFICE AGENTS.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Indiana, offered a resolution calling on the Postmaster General for information as to Special Agents of the Postoffice Department. Adopted.

FREEDMEN'S BUREAU EXTENSION.

The House proceeded in the morning hour to the consideration of the bill to continue for another year the Freedmen's Bureau.

Mr. WOOD addressed the House in opposition thereto. He argued against its constitutionality and present and future necessity; that it had failed to accomplish its object; had been a heavy burden on the Treasury; had worked injury to the freedmen by encouraging idleness; prevented proper working of Southern plantations; that the Bureau agents used their positions to enrich themselves and obtain political preferment, &c. After allusion to Messrs. Butler and Schenck, he said, referring to General Howard, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, he held in his hand a statement, which, however, he would not read, charging that officer with holding revolting sentiments in reference to the amalgamation of the races. If this were so, he was totally unfit for the position he held. He would make no accuation against General Howard's integrity, but he would say that that officer had become a man of large wealth. He is said to own more real estate in the city of Washington than any newcomer, and lands which he had bought for fifty-dollars an acre had been sold to freedmen for two hundred dollars. He did not endorse this statement. He only repeated what he had heard. If true, it was proof of the philanthrophy and benevolent care which he exercised over those poor people.

Mr. ARNELL spoke in support of the bill.

Mr. ELIOT closed the debate. Before proceeding to answer the argument against the bill, he desired to brush away a foul slander which had found a mouth-piece here. The gentleman from New York, (Mr. Wood) was to be congratulated on having found an opportunity to inject into the discussion a slander, born of private ill-will. There was no slander so foul, or so destitute of truth, that would not, when thrown on the air by an envenomed tongue, find some friendly voice to give it circulation, and the offspring of this calumny might be himself congratulated, as the offspring of his mind and heart, having found a fit god father in the gentleman from New York. When that slander first came to his (Mr. Eliot's) notice he had addressed a note to the commander on the subject, and he would read his answer. It was as follows:

Washington, D. C., February 18, 1868—To Hon. T. D. Eliot: DEAR SIR: You have called my attention to an absurd charge against me, that I have said or done something which looked as if I favored the intermixture by marriage of white and black population. This charge originated with certain men who hate me. Of course there is no shadow of truth in it. In all the Bureau work promoting marriage, I have had no case of this kind to act on, and none is known at my office, as the Board of Trustees have never, to my knowledge, privately or officially, sought to do so. Whatever words I may have used, this charge is untrue.

(Signed.) O. O. HOWARD,
Major General Commanding, &c.

Mr. ELIOT went on to say the rumor that Gen. Howard had grown rich with his administration of the Freedmen's Bureau was also false, foul and slanderous.

Mr. BLAINE added his denial to that of Mr. Eliot, and declared a more upright man than Gen. Howard did not exist in the United States, and that any gentleman who made an opposite charge only disgraced and dishonored himself in so doing.

Mr. WOOD remarked if the gentlemen on the other side would give him a Committee of Investigation, he would prove some of the statements.

Mr. ADAMS moved to lay on the table. Negatived.

The bill then passed—yeas ninety-six, nays thirty-seven.

CIVIL EXPENSE APPROPRIATION.

The House proceeded to dispose of the amendments reported two weeks since from the Committee of the whole to the sundry civil expense appropriation bill.

Mr. LOGAN moved to amend the first paragraph of the bill by reducing the amount appropriated for carrying into effect the several acts of Congress authorizing loans and issue of Treasury notes from $1,500,000 to $564,904.

Mr. RANDALL desired to offer an amendment that no part of the amount should be used for paying commissions for sale of bonds.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Illinois, said it was entirely unnecessary, as it could not be used for that purpose.

Mr. WASHBURNE moved the previous question on the bill and amendments.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, desired an opportunity to discuss some of the amendments.

The House refused the previous question—thirty-one to sixty-seven.

The House then proceeded to vote on the amendments.

Mr. RANDALL offered his amendment, before alluded to, and it was agreed to.

Mr. LOGAN'S amendment, thus amended, was adopted.

Mr. PETERS favored the sale of vessels in preference to laying them up, and offered such amendment.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, again moved the previous question and the House again refused to second it.

Mr. HURLBURD, of New York, offered an amendment directing the Secretary of the Treasury to withdraw from commission every revenue cutter on the Atlantic coast not actually needed for constant service.

Mr. SAWYER offered an amendment for the erection of a new light house on Lake Michigan, between Bailey's Harbor and North Bay, on completion of which the light house at Bailey's Harbor be discontinued. Adopted.

The amendment directing six steam revenue cutters on the Lakes to be laid up in ordinary being reached, Mr. SPAULDING spoke in opposition, and Messrs. WASHBURNE, of Ill., SELEYE and CHURCHHILL in advocacy.

Mr. PETERS' amendment was rejected.

Mr. HURLBURD'S was adopted, and Mr. CHURCHILL'S amendment, as thus amended, was agreed to.

The amendments making appropriations for public buildings were reached. The first, being that increasing the appropriation for Appraisers' store at Philadelphia from $25,000 to $75,000, was rejected—forty-five to sixty-two.

The next amendment was to increase the appropriation for the construction of a court house in Des Moines, Iowa, from $15,000 to $80,000.

Without a vote Mr. BUTLER, from the Conference Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported they were unable to agree, and a new Committee was appointed.

Adjourned.

The writer, after giving a lengthy history of the early popular votes in France, proves therefrom that the French Constitution is based upon the will of the people only, and is changeable only by vote of the people. He then passes on to review the course of the Emperor towards the people, and contends that in the decrees of 1860 and 1867, wherein certain liberal reforms were guaranteed them, the Emperor manifests that he seeks to adopt the covenant to progress and liberty.

LATE STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.

Fearful Condition of the Passengers—Attempts at Rescue—The Killed and Wounded.

The telegraph, on Thursday afternoon, furnished full particulars of the disaster to the steamboat Magnolia on the Ohio river, between Cincinnati and Maysville, on Wednesday. From the Cincinnati papers we glean the following additional particulars. The Enquirer says:

One of the most terrible steamboat disasters that has occurred in this vicinity since the blowing up of the Mozelle, took place yesterday, a short distance below California, at the mouth of Crawfish, and about seven miles up the river.

The ill-fated boat was the Magnolia, one of the regular Cincinnati and Maysville packets, and the most popular boat upon the line. She left her dock at the usual hour, 12 M., with, as is estimated, fully one hundred and six passengers on board, and in about an hour afterwards the explosion took place.

Mr. Gus Miller, who resides opposite where the catastrephe occurred, put off in a skiff to the rescue of the unfortunates on board. He states that after the explosion the boat went some distance ahead, and he pulled a mile before the flames burst forth, so that he estimates the interval at nearly ten minutes. When he arrived near the wreck, a most fearful sight presented itself. Beneath the guards a dozen men were clinging, and shrieking for help, while the flames were seething their heads, hands and faces.

The heat was so intense that it was impossiple for the skiffs to approach near enough for their rescue, and one by one they dropped into the water. One man who still remained on the boat, with a little girl in his arms, shouted to the men in the skiff, "for God's sake to save the child." While the fire was scorching behind, until the heat becoming intolerable, he dropped the little girl into the water, and then jumped overboard himself.

In the meantime other skiffs had put out from the Ohio shore, and by desperate exertion many persons, principally ladies, were rescued from the burning wreck. Two, however, were swept beneath the guards, and every effort to rescue the was in vain. One man was seen hanging to the hog-chain, his beard and the hair of his head burning. Mr. Miller shouted to him to let go, and he dropped into the water and was saved, although terribly injured by the flames. Another, badly burned, was taken off the rudder, but the raging element was so rapid in its progress that but short time was vouchsafed either to the victims or those who came to their aid.

The steam tug Falcon came up, and took some twenty-four of the injured on board. The steamer Panther, too, was headed as rapidly as possible to the scene of the disaster, and brought a great number of the unfortunate people to the city. The scene on these boats was of the most harrowing description. Many of the poor creatures, half charred, were moaning piteously, while others lay in a state of stupor, happily, for the time being, oblivious to their terrible condition. During the progress to the city every attention was devoted that kindness could suggest, and nothing was left undone that could in any wise alleviate their suffering.

THE DEAD AND LOST.

The books were all destroyed, so that it is impossible, at this time, to ascertain how many passengers there were on board, and how many perished. And this suggests not only the expediency, but the necessary precaution which should be adopted by all passenger steamers before quitting port, of leaving a duplicate register. In the present case it may be impossible to ascertain how many have been lost by this terrible disaster.

The Commercial furnishes the following list of those of the passengers and crew who are reported killed:

LOST—Captain J. H. Prather; James Stevens, second engineer; Perry Miller, second mate; William Evans, bar-tender; Mary Copin, chambermaid; lost; John Rees, of Felicity, Ohio, was drowned; Wm. Evans, boatman, missing; Miss Retta French, of Mason county, Kentucky, is supposed to be drowned; R. Bradford Ripley, Ohio, is also reported lost; six deck hands, whose names are unknown, are also reported lost, which makes a total of fifteen lives.

A gentleman named M. Oche, a cattle dealer, living on the corner of Fifteenth and Race streets, was one of the unfortunate passengers on the ill-fated Magnolia. He suffered severely from a broken leg, fractured skull and severe internal injuries. He was brought here by the Panther, and died last evening at half-past six o'clock.

AN INCIDENT.

The following incident occurred at the time of the explosion: A lady from this city, named Mrs. Thiele, the daughter of a hatter residing on Vine, opposite Green street, took passage on the Magnolia for Ripley, together with her son, aged about six years. When the boat caught fire the little fellow was so frightened that he jumped overboard. His mother, in order to save her child, jumped in after him, and clinging to him, endeavored to carry him to shore, but her strength failed her, and mother and child were about to perish, when a colored deck hand, who was badly scalded, plunged into the river after them, and succeeded in geting them ashore safely. We were unable to hear the name of this noble fellow.

A PITTSBURGHER ABROAD.

The Gazette says: At the Spencer House we found Mr. A. C. Hull, a manufacturer at Pittsburgh. He was in his stateroom, asleep, at the time of the explosion. As he waked he sprung to the door, saw the situation at once, and jumping overboard, clung to the hull until picked up by one of the skiffs. Mr. Hull had hardly recovered from some slight bruises he received on the Indianopolis and Cincinnati Railroad, when the train he was on was thrown from the track at Whitewater bridge on Tuesday morning by the storm. Mr. Hull, on his trip up the river from Evansville, was, as we learned, on a boat which took fire. He escaped with slight injury from the disaster of yesterday, being but little bruised. His trunk was fortunately awaiting him at the Spencer House, where he had left it. He is an elderly gentleman, and at the time we were at the Spencer House, had retired to rest.

The Magnolia was built at Cincinnati in October, 1859, and was 200 feet in length, 33 feet beam, with 6 feet depth of hold. She had three boilers, each 24 feet in length, 46 inches in diameter and six feet stroke. The total loss of life will probably exceed one hundred persons.

Drowned in Lake Champlain.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WHITE HALL, N. Y., March 19.—Two daughters of Captain Paine, light house keeper at Crown Point, were drowned yesterday in an attempt to cross Lake Champlain on the ice. The Captain and his son were saved.

—All the operatives in Sprague's cotton mill, at Baltic, Connecticut, struck for higher wages yesterday. The mill has stopped work.

ROCK HIM TO SLEEP.

Backward, speed backward, Oh! Ball in your flight
Make not an ass of yourself—(just for to-night;)
Pull the few silver threads out of your hair,
Fill up and varnish those furrows of care—
Care that was born of attempting Fame's steep,
Which you couldn't climb, Ball, when none rocked to sleep.

O, Bally, come back from the echoing shore!
Cease for a season the public to bore
With your infamous rhymes and your stupid complaint,
For you know you are claiming to be that which you ain't.
Oh, drivel do more!—don't snuffle, don't weep—
Hang up your lyre, Ball,—I'll rock you to sleep.

Now, I give you this chance, and I'll give you no more;
For if ever again you offer to pour
From your stale, oozy fount of ineffable bosh
Any more rhyming arguments, Ball, that won't wash,
I'll say to those Westerners, "Rise! Of vengeance drink deep!
Rock him to sleep, boys, rock him to sleep!"

MARK TWAIN.

AN ACROSTIC.

Ambitious traitorous imbecile thou art.
Never did earth contain so black a heart:
Devoid of manly honor, truth, or reason;
Rebuked, a nation stands, by thy foul treason:
Every true heart will join to curse thee, fiend,
When thy polluted soul has met its end.

Judas betrayed his Lord and master; thou
Oh monster! sold the people whom thy vow
Had bound to thee in holy faith to guide.
Nations will ever name thee to deride;
Scouted thy name by millions yet unborn,
On thy black deeds they e'er will look with scorn;
None will then bow to thee, of power shorn.

—Miss Batemans inimitable personation of Leah has made a sensation in Edinburgh.

—1.25 is what the Chicago Tribune says gold will fall to two weeks after Johnson is deposed.

—M. Paul de Koek, the French novelist, wears the cross and the ribbon of the Legion of Honor.

—Basil Duke, notorious during the war, has just been appointed tobacco weigher at Louisville.

—A Philadelphia critic says Mrs. Kemble's movements are "like the walking of a flowing wave."

—Gazzaniga and Albites are reported to have concluded to have "two hearts that beat as one."

—A statue of Thos. H. Benton is to be erected in Lafayette Park, St. Louis, facing the Pacific Railway.

—Mississippi sends four ex-Confederate field-officers as delegates at large to the Democratic Convention.

—Mormon law requires a young man to marry at nineteen. After that he can marry whenever he chooses.

—Bellefontaine and Coshocton, in Ohio, want to be united by a railroad, and to that end are agitating the project.

—Tavistowski is the name of the leading danseuse in the ballet now connected with the spectacle of Undine in St. Louis.

—Two hundred and fifty more unfortunates weary of breath, rashly importunate went to their deaths in London last year.

—$1,000,000 is to be the price of the new State house in DesMoines, Iowa. Albany is going to pay more than that for a State house.

—Rossini is eighty-four years of age, and yet, as he was born on the 29th of February, has celebrated but twenty-one anniversaries of his birth.

—A woman in Louisiana sued for a divorce from a man to whom she never had been married. She wanted the reputation of having been married, to cling to her.

—The liver of the hare, it has been discovered, makes as good Strasburgh pates as does the liver of the goose. But persons are prejudiced against hairs in their food.

—Two hundred and thirty-one thousand dollars worth of stock in the Newport and Cincinnati Bridge Company was subscribed on Saturday last. The bridge is to cost one million.

—An evening paper has named two or three different persons as the paragrapher of the GAZETTE. The compiler of this column is very widely known. He is called We.

—Leavenworth newspapers speak very disrespectfully of the Missouri river, calling it "Old Muddy." This is certainly wrong, when one remembers the great age of that stream.

—The iuvaluable library of many thousands of volumes, belonging to the learned Abbe Migni at Montrouge between Paris and Versailles, was completely destroyed by fire last month.

—Five cents per mile is the fare on the Union Pacific Railroad, from Omaha, westward. If this rate of fare is adhered to, a journey to San Francisco by rail, when the road is finished, will be possible to very few.

—Barney and Mrs. Barney Williams are going to pay John Brougham $3,000 for a new Irish drama. We don't see why. These two artists have played the Fairy Circle for fifteen years; why can't they go on with it?

—The suffrage question is being agitated in Liberia. One party wishes to allow whites to vote. The Conservatives, however, want to stick to the old constitution, which demands a visible shade of color as a requisite for each voter.

—The London Illustrated News has sent an artist to depict Impeachment. This will be good news for American illustrated papers, as they will have just so much more that they can steal bodily from that paper without acknowledgment.

—Historically Spain has awakened from its long lethargic sleep. The Government has ordered all officers in the engineering and military staffs to exhaust all possible means in the study of Julius Cæsar's campaigns in the Peninsula. This will probably throw light on many a dark page of the most interesting volumes of Roman History.

—Mr. Beecher may be eloquent, but he is not always elegant in his choice of synonyms; recently he said; "Life would be a perpetual flea hunt if a man were obliged to run down all the inuendoes, inveracities, insinuations and suspicions, which are uttered against him."

—The three great little Hungarian dwarfs are in St. Louis. Wherever they go they are received with enthusiastic wonder. Those who missed seeing them when they were here missed the most comical sight in the world, excepting, perhaps, the acting of delightful Lotta.

—The following curiosities are on exhibition in Louisville: Monster calf, having eight legs, two tails, two spines, two bellies, four ears, one eye, no head; and a swinish monstrosity, with one head, one upper jaw, two lower jaws, two tongues, two sets of teeth, two bodies, eight legs, two tails.

—Several gentlemen are in the habit of writing for the Atlantic Monthly, several of these gentlemen are even in the habit of mentioning the fact rather boastfully, without however thinking of mentioning the fact that that magazine has never reciprocated by printing what was thus written for it.

—The religious press outside of the Episcopal Church, manifests a strong interest in Mr. Tyng; sympathizing with him and stirring him up to sedition even (if that were possible in religious papers). Much notice has been taken of the quiet behavior of the reverend gentleman, but denominational justice did not deem it necessary to mention the rather undignified and decidedly unprecedented deportment of the reverend gentleman's reverend father.

—It is not every one who can achieve a great literary reputation, and run it for a quarter of a century. Fewer still can when they find that newer writers are crowding them out, abandon the old line and name, and achieve another brilliaut renown with a new nom de plume in a new field of literature. Walter Scott did this, and Charles Lever has followed his example. We all have laughed with Poe at the absurdities of Lever's style, but we have also laughed with Lever at the wit and humor of his characters. And now we all enjoy just as much the more finished letters of Cornelius O'Dowd in Blackwood's Magazine, although but few of us probably are aware that the pen of Charles Lever has written them.

STATE NEWS.

—On Thursday, last week, as Mrs. B. F. Miller was standing near the stove, her clothing took fire, and before she was aware of it was in a blaze. Being very much frightened she attempted to run up stairs. Her husband entering at this instant seized and rescued her from a horrible death, and the probable destruction of the house. Fortunately Mrs. Miller was not injured, but Mr. Miller had one of his hands seriously burned in extinguishing the flames—Upper Dauphin Register.

—The county bridge spanning the Raystown Branch, at Hawn,s in Juniata township, was swept away on Tuesday night of last week, by the heavy ice flood. This bridge was repaired last summer, at a cost of over three thousand dollars, and its loss will be severely felt by the citizens of that township. We are informed that there was not enough timber left on the ground to kindle a fire, and the pier was completely demolished.—Huntingdon Journal.

On last Monday evening week a sad accident happened at a steam saw mill in Cross Creek township, which resulted in the instaneous death of the owner, Mr. Harrison T. Harsha. Mr. Harsha had been firing up, and on stepping backward, slipped, and falling against the fly wheel in his rear, his body was drawn under it (the wheel runs in a pit) head foremost. The body of the unfortunate man was recovered shortly afterwards in a horribly mutilated condition.—Washington Reporter.

—Mrs. —— Wertz, of this place, died on last Wednesday, aged 100 years and three months. She was born on the 25th of December, 1767. The deceased was a native of Germany, and has been a resident of this town for about three years. She had a very retentive memory, and could recite instances that happened in her life from early childhood. We believe she was the oldest inhabitant of this place, and was a member of the Lutheran Church.—Huntington Globe.

—The ice gorge at the Delaware water gap gave way on the 10th instant. Thousands were present to see the spectacle. The vast sea of ice had been surging and grinding for thirty hours, endeavoring to pass the gap. The choked up stream had set back and overflowed its limits, doing considerable damage to the railroad and the telegraph line. One locomotive was carried into the flood. No lives were lost.

—Robert Jones, who had both his legs broken by a large rock falling upon them, in a quarry at Slateville, York county, on the 21st ult., died of his injuries on Thursday of last week. He leaves a wife and four little children to mourn his loss. William Parry, who at the same time had his arm broken and badly injured in other respects, is doing well, and gives every hope of a speedy recovery.

—Rev. E. V. Gerhart, of Lancaster, has been elected by the Eastern Synod of the German Reformed Church, to fill the chair of Didactic Theology in the Mercersburg Theological Seminary, made vacant by the death of Rev. Dr. Harbaugh. The new Professor will be inaugurated at the next annual meeting of the Synod, at Hagerstown.

—The Albany Evening Journal says: We have in the past oftener differed with Ben Wade than otherwise—and probably shall continue to do so in the future. But if the decision of the High Court of Impeachment does put him in the Presidential chair, we shall have—in refreshing contrast to the present incumbent—a true and honest man.

—A race between Colonels seems likely to come off here next week. Colonel P. Bryne, a good lawyer and courteous gentleman, proposes to be a candidate for the office of District Attorney, and Col. Alfred Dart, also one of our oldest lawyers, proposes to be a competitor.—Carbendale Advance.

—The present season is said by those whose interest it is to keep "booked up" in such matters, to be an exceedingly favorable one for the growing wheat crop. So far as we have heard, the wheat fields throughout York and Adams counties present a very flourishing condition.

—The Postoffice at Rock Lake, Wayne county, has been re-established, and the old incumbent, Arthur Connor, Esq., appointed Postmaster.

—Mr. John W. Spray, formerly an esteemed resident of Honesdale, died at Portsmouth, Ohio, on the 21st ult., of consumption.

RIVER NEWS.

Both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are receding steadily at this point with eighteen feet in the channel by the former, and sixteen by the latter. The weather yesterday was cloudy and mild, with indications favorable for more rain. Business continues fairly active at the landing, freights offering pretty freely for all points, and the levee yesterday presented quite an animated appearance.

The arrivals include the Wild Duck and Barges, from New Orleans; Camelia, from Nashville; New State, from Cincinnati, and the McCullough, from Parkersburg. The latter boat was considerably behind time, having been detained by high water and fog. She cleared again in the afternoon.

The St. Charles left for Cincinnati yesterday afternoon with a moderate freight list, and a fair number of passengers.

The explosion of the Cincinnati and Maysville packet Magnolia, announced in our dispatches of yesterday, is a very sad affair—forty lives reported lost. It is to be hoped that this first report has been considerably exaggerated, and that when details of the calamity are gathered together it will not appear so frightful, though it will be bad enough, no doubt.

The Wauanita, Capt. Thos. Shuman, is filling up rapidly for the Missouri river, as is also the Lorena, Capt. Sam. Shuman, for St. Louis. The R. C. Gray, Captain Wm. B. Anderson, is up for Cairo and Memphis, and the America, Capt. Adam Poe, will be the first boat out for Nashville.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, is filling up rapidly for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will positively take her departure to-day. Capt. A. J. Bears still retains charge of the office.

The Wild Duck & Barges, Capt. Anawalt, is announced to leave for St. Louis to-morrow. Shippers should make a note of this.

The Yorktown, in command of the veteran Capt. Wash. Ebbert, is announced to leave for Fort Benton and all intermediate points on Saturday, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Yorktown made the voyage successfully last season. The new steamer Andrew Ackley, Capt. Bolie, will be the next in turn.

A dispatch from Memphis states that the pilot house of the Emperor was blown off a short distance above Memphis, in the storm of Tuesday morning. Damage was done to other boats there, including the Lady Gay, which had her chinneys blown down.

The Evansville packet Tarascon, in the storm Tuesday morning, had seven feet of water on her deck at one time. Freight was washed overboard and other damage sustained.

The floors of a large stone grain warehouse on the bank of the Illinois river, at Peru, gave way Saturday night, precipitating from 40,000 to 50,000 bushels of grain into the cellar, where the water was about three feet deep. The damage is immense.

Capt. Jacobs is having the cabin of the Ida Stockdale widened nine feet and four state-rooms added. This will be a decided improvement in the boat.

The Dubuque Herald states that proposals have been received from steamboat captains on the Ohio to command the Northwestern Union packets for $125 per month.

The Parkersburg Times, of the 16th, says: An election is called for next Saturday to decide upon the will of this city regarding a subscription of city bonds to the amount $20,000, to assist the Little Kanawha improvement.

The Vicksburg Herald, of the 15th, has the following: The Lee has been fooling with the pegs set down by the great Princess in her famous trip, some years ago, and lifted them from the mouth of Red river to Natchez; time, four hours and 32 minutes, being nineteen minutes quicker. She made landings at Fort Adams, Black Hawk, Hutchens and Vidalia, which was more than the Princess did. The distance is seventy-two miles.

The Davenport (Iowa) Democrat says: From our files we learn that ther iver at this point has been closed this season just eighty-seven days. It is said that the longest period of ice-blockade, at this point, was in the winter of 1842-3, when the river closed November 14, and so remained until the 10th of April—in all 147 days.

A dispatch, dated St. Joseph, Mo., March 14th, says: The little steamer Uncle Ned, which plies between this port and Belmont, Kansas, sunk this afternoon. She was starting on her afternoon trip, and had just got under headway, when abreast of the city and running too close to the bar, she struck a snag. The shock suggested serious damage, and she was headed for the Kansas shore, which s he reached and was made fast. Her stern settled down in about six feet of water. The damage will not be heavy.

The stockholders of the Northwest Union Packet line, a Chicago, Dubuque and St. Paul institution, met at Chicago recently, and then, or subsequently, after the following appointments were made:

Steamer.	Captain.	Clerk.
Milwaukee,	J. F. West,	Hatcher.
Key City,	W. H. Laughton,	Barron.
Phil. Sheridan,	M. Hutchinson,	Hall.
City St. Paul,	S. Painter,	Paul.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Wednesday: The New Orleans trade is only moderate, and rates ruinously low. The water was over the pavements at the foot of Main street and Broadway last evening, limiting the wharf space to two squares, between Main street and Broadway. The Delaware's chimneys fell last night while being lowered preparatory to passing under the bridge. Capt. Calhoun soon had them elevated again, when she departed for Nashville. The Madison packet C. D. Dumont encountered the gale opposite Kirtley's, near Medoc Bar, and while endeavoring to make a landing, damaged her larboard guard. Capt. Geo. W. Cullum resumed command of the Shamrock last evening. Capt. Geo. Clark was very badly injured about the head, in the railroad disaster yesterday. The Leonora No. 2, Lady Grace, Carrie Williams and Spray, lying above the foot of Broadway, parted their lines during the heavy storm yesterday morning, and were blown across the river, where they were caught between a number of coal barges. No damage was done to the boats.

The Sallie, en route from Pittsburgh to the mountains, arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday with six hundred tons.

THE LATEST HORROR,

By the explosion of the steamer Magnolia, near Cincinnati on the 18th, over one hundred persons almost instantly perished. It is said that of one hundred and sixty persons on board, passengers and crew, only fifty-four lives are known to have been saved. No plausible explanation of the cause of this terrible disaster has yet appeared, but we trust there may be a strict investigation made, and that any living parties who may prove to be responsible for such wholesale slaughter will be held to the closest accountability.

THE Vermont Republicans wheel into line for GRANT, Liberty and Equality. Their State Convention on the 18th appointed delegates to the Chicago Convention, adopted resolutions in favor of GRANT, of impeachment, and of guaranteeing equal civil and religious rights to all citizens.

AMONG the Senators whom the friends of Mr. JOHNSON have slandered by insinuating that they might decline to vote for his conviction after due proof of guilt, is Mr. Ross of Kansas. The Leavenworth Tribune says that the story "was started by personal enemies of the Senator, and with the deliberate intention of injuring him at home." They knew the integrity of the man, but they little knew the high degree of confidence which his constituents repose in him.

OUR Democratic friends are evidently in a tight place, in the matter of Presidential candidates. They are afraid to nominate Pendleton or Seymour, for either would insure a bolt on the bond question. McClellan and Hancock are no longer to be thought of; they cannot be coaxed to take up Belmont; Hendricks and Hoffman are not popular cards; Johnson is under temporary difficulties, and they cannot wait for Jeff. Davis to emerge from the cloud which has for a few years obscured his sterling patriotism. They are beginning to talk about Chase, and, it is said, pretend to be serious in claiming him as a good Democrat and an eligible candidate for their nomination. There must be some mistake about this, for such a movement just now, while the Impeachment is pending, is not in consonance with the highly delicate sense of propriety which usually marks that party. Have they no fears that uncharitable people will accuse them of a wish to influence the Chief Justice in presiding over the Senate?

DOCTORS DIFFER as to the effect upon the MCARDLE case of the law repealing the act of '67, which gave the Court its jurisdiction. Some "eminent jurists" maintain that this repeal places the non-jurisdiction beyond doubt; that it is not an ex post facto law as concerning this case, and that its passage has "so far altered the complexion of the appeal, in the opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Bench, that the deliberations of the Court on it have been postponed for a week." And another equally eminent jurist, who regularly amuses himself by corresponding for the New York Advertiser (Mr. Weed's paper) thinks it likely that no decision whatever will be rendered, "the Court having been deprived of its jurisdiction" and the enemies of reconstruction "are accordingly berating Congress for thus upsetting their legal apple cart." On the other hand, the Bohemian authorities are far more numerous and equally decided in the declaration that the Court having legally acquired jurisdiction in a case cannot, as to that case, be deprived of it, witheut trenching upon the vested rights of the litigant, who, entering the Court legally, carries with him to judgment the law as it stood. For, otherwise, what litigant could have a legal status, of which subsequent legislation, before judgment were rendered, could not deprive him? It is easy to see on which side the strength of the argument lies, and it is safe to anticipate that the Court will hold accordingly.

IT IS ASSIGNED as one reason for the proposed immediate admission of Alabama, that the white Democracy of that State have determined to run an electoral ticket in the Presidential canvass, claiming that she is still a State in the Union, and voting upon that ticket under the old State law which admits every rebel white vote, but, of cousre, excludes all the blacks. If the Alabama rebels contemplate seriously any such absurd design as this, we do not see how the present admission—under the new Farnsworth bill, or under any other bill which ignores the recent adverse vote, and the express terms of the reconstruction laws—can help the matter. The result would only be two tickets and two elections, one manifestly illegal, and the other owing all its legality to the enabling act of Congress, and the decision must be ultimately transferred to Congress which counts the votes of the Electoral College. That decision will be made quite as easily and legally—and without any of the injurious consequences which are certain to attend any bill for immediate admission,—if Congress would simply re-enact the law of 1864, declaring what States should be counted and what should not. That law was generally acquiesced in, and would be again effective. Let the chivalry amuse themselves with "running" as many electoral tickets as they choose! The Presidentia vote will be counted and declared according to the result of authorized elections legally conducted. In no way can we escape the usual amount of partizan clamor from Southern rebels, or their Northern copperhead allies. They are sure to be beaten and therefore certain to howl. That is a matter of course. But release the restored State from military occupation, and a rebel ticket will immediately be run, and the new State government can not prevent it, The law of 1864 should therefore be re-enacted, and it would be sufficient to meet any case that may arise.

RAILROADS.

It so fell out, during the snow storm which prevailed during the forepart of the present month, that Mr. HORACE GREELEY, returning from a western lecturing tour, by way of the Erie Railway, and finding the trains uncomfortably behind time, felt constrained to lay over at Middletown, in Orange county, and take a rest. Here he observed that about eighty passenger and freight trains passed in the course of twenty-four hours, most of them heavily laden. From this fact he jumped to the conclusion that, as the road was reputed not to pay expenses, it must be flagrantly mismanaged; and this inference he set forth, in a published card, bearing his initials.

The Erie Railway is broad-guage. The rolling stock upon it is necessarily heavier and more costly than the corresponding equipment of a narrow guage road. Heavier motive power is required for its heavier trains; while the additional width and weight make the trackage more expensive and the wear and tear more considerable. Indeed, all competent railroad operators affirm that it costs thirty-three and a third per cent. more to transact a given amount of business on a broad guage than on a narrow one. This is the difference between a profitable road and a road that fails to pay expenses. Here is disclosed the predicament of all the broad-guage roads in this country. All of them are embarrassed; and there does not seem to be any way out of the embarrassments which inhere so absolutely in the very nature of the case. While broad-guage roads are much more comfortable to travelers than the other sort, they do not appear capable of consoling the pockets of those who own them.

The narrow-gauge roads having the advantage of cheapness in equipment and running, must and will determine the charges on freight and travel, except for such as are purely local. They can and do make rates which yield them from six to ten per cent. profit, but which subject the broad-gauge roads to at least twenty per cent. loss on competing business. Under this condition of affairs it is obvious enough that the more business the broad-gauge roads do, the worse for their stockholders. Eighty trains a day produce a larger deficit than any less number of trains. We do not exactly see how this difficulty is to be avoided.

Mr. VANDERBILT, it is declared, has, in conjunction with his associates, obtained the control of the Erie; proposes to extend the broad-gauge to Toledo, and thence to Chicago; so that persons and merchandize may pass between that Western metropolis and New York without change of cars. This would certainly be a convenience to passengers, and would lessen slightly the cost of moving freight, as breaking bulk would be dispensed with at intermediate points. Still, we do not perceive that these measures cure or even touch the radical evil. The thirty-three and a third per cent. difference in cost of operating must still remain against the Erie, and so long as this shall continue, additional work to be done cannot help the case.

If all the companies owning narrow-guage roads, leading from the East to the West, would combine in framing a schedule of prices that would afford the broad-guage road a handsome annual profit, and would religiously adhere thereto, the latter would prosper, and where the choice between routes was equal, or nearly so, would obtain the preference from travelers. But the community would cry out against a combination of this character, regarding the rates exacted as extortionate. The prevalent disposition is to declaim against railway corporations, no matter how low their rates may be adjusted, until they consent to work for nothing and find themselves. Everybody, except the stockholders, wants cheap freights and fares, no matter if cheapness brings with it, as it must and ought, liability to increasing hazards of delay or destruction.

But such combinations cannot be maintained. The spirit of rivalry is so powerful, that companies will compete with each other where competition is beyond the common scale of remuneration. If the manager is forced into competition at the points of contact he will abate prices so as to secure the business, provided he can do so and make the most moderate gains. Still he will not put down prices to such of his customers as must buy of him whether they will or no. There may be exceptions to this line of business policy; but still they are the exceptions.

But, it is well to consider whether railway companies do any different, in this respect, from merchants or manufacturers. If a manufacturer or dealer, here in Pittsburgh, has control of a special article, or a given market, he will exact at least a living profit. The chances are that he will do more; that he may insist on an extraordinary advance is possible. The company that either has, or thinks it has, the advantage, in a shorter line, in lower grades, in fewer and milder curves, in less exposure to snows or other obstructions, or in a more economical guage, will press its advantage to the utmost. This tendency is observable throughout the whole length and breadth of the railway system in this country. Out of the development of this tendency grow the multitudinous complaints that railway companies discriminate harshly against local traffic; that is, against business which cannot avoid coming to them. Not that this local trade is charged less than is fair and right; but that the spirit of competition, where there is room for it to find vent, induces the adoption of lower rates than ought to be made for such business as has a choice of lines. In this case, it is not the men having through business who complain; but the men who are so located that they have to use a particular road, and pay whatever rates are imposed.

A good deal of ordinary human nature enters into railway management. So long as the Pennsylvania Central and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago roads can carry for less rates than the Erie between Chicago and New York, and yet make satisfactory gains, they will do so. They will consult their own welfare, and not that of their rivals. This may be held to be a violation of the rule of disinterested benevolence, but such holding will not alter the practice.

Mr. VANDERBILT and his associates now have control of the New York Central and of the Erie. Of course, it is within their power to harmonise the management of those two trunk lines. It is possible they may expand their ambition, and their means to match, so as to grasp the Pennsylvania Central. In that event, all three of the roads would obey a common will, and the rates would be exacted on the cheaper roads to meet the necessities of the dearer ones. Such a result is just as probable now as was, five years ago, what has since been evolved relative to the Harlem, the Hudson River, the New York Central, and the Erie Railways. What was then deemed incredible and impossible has been accomplished. In this view of the case, while it may be held improbable that the management of the Pennsylvania line may follow the same destiny, it is not chimerical to maintain that it may. If it shall follow the destiny of the trunk lines of New York, there may be grievances to complain of, sharper than those which now exist touching discriminations against way traffic.

AN IMMENSE GOLD-FIELD has been discovered in Peru, the metal being so abundant that the Indian, with the simplest and rudest mechanical aid, is able to gather several ounces of gold in a few hours. The region is situated in Northern Peru, upon the upper waters of the rivers Maranon and Morona, tributaries of the Amazon, and has hitherto been known, since the earliest occupation of Peru by the Spaniards, as the "Land of the fierce Indians." The native race is still war-like and barbarous in the extreme, and the expedition which has resulted in the public knowledge of the remarkable wealth of that territory in the precious metal, which has just returned to report to the Peruvian government, was attended with great exposures and hazards, such as to indicate that small parties of explorers would find the greatest difficulty in securing a position there. But the fabulous qualities of gold existing there will tempt and insure a speedy removal of all the existing obstacles.

HUBBELL, the ex-M. C. from the Delaware (Ohio) District, is nominated by the President for United States Attorney of Montana, but will not be confirmed by the Senate. This is the same man who, while acting with the Republican party which had elected him, was secretly betraying them to the Democrats. He recently had the shameless audacity to bring forward proof of that treachery in order to entitle him to re-nomination by a Democratic Convention. The party which used him despised his treachery and would not touch him. But one man lives in the Republic who sympathizes with him.

NEW PUBBICATIONS.

LETTERS FROM THE FRONTIER. Written during a period of Thirty Years' service in the Army of the United States. By Major General George A. McCall, late Commander os the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., 93 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

The recent death of General McCall, and the fact of his having commanded the State Reserve Corps, partly composed of regiments from this neighborhood, will render this work of touching interest to many of our readers, aside from the intrinsic merits of the Letters. These Letters embrace his military career, commencing with his graduation at the Military Academy at West Point, until his resignation in 1853, while holding the position of Inspector General of the United States Army, a period of about thirty years, during which his connection with the Florida and Mexican wars were highly honorable to him. They are written in fine style, and contain valuable information of different portions of the country, which makes them important as well as interesting. They are sketchy and full of character-painting. The numerous admirers of the gallant General will be pleased to have these Letters in book form. The important military services of General McCall on the breaking out of the rebellion ought also to be put in book form.

HUMAN LIFE IN SHAKESPEARE. By Henry Giles, author of "Illustrations of Genius," etc. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., 93 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

Several years ago Mr. Giles delivered a course of lectures before the Lowell Institute, in Boston, which are reproduced in this book. The admirers of this gentlemen, as well as the lovers of Shakespeare, will be gratified to have these voluable lectures in such a permanent form. The contents are: 1. The Growing and Perpetual Influence of Shakespeare. 2. Human Life in Shakespeare. 3. Man in Shakespeare. 4. Woman in Shakespeare. 5. Shakespeare's Comic Power. 6. Shakespeare's Magic Power. 7. Shakespeare's Personality. Aside from the intrinsic merits of the work, the elegant style and scholarly abilities of the author is manifest. In some respects Mr. Giles is regarded as one of the best of living lecturers, and, when in health, he commanded the homage of large audiences. His lectures in this city several years ago, are remembered with much pleasure. We hope, now that the author is in feeble health and unable to lecture, that his book will have a wide circulation. The publishers have brought out the book in royal style.

COMSTOCK'S ELOCUTION. Enlarged. By Andrew Comstock, M. D. Selections of Prose and Verse by Philip Lawrence, Professor of Elocution, and Teacher of Readings and Recitations in the First Schools and Colleges in Philadelphia. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson & Brothers. Pittsburgh: W. A. Gildenfenny.

This publication embodies a system of vocal Gymnastics, designed for the promotion of health, cure of stammering and defective articulation. With exercises in elocution, vocal gymnastics, articulation, pitch, force, time, gesture, reading and declamation, with postures of the body, arms, head, face, eyes, shoulders, and the lower limbs. Illustrated with two hundred and sixty-three engravings of figures in various postures and diagrams illustrative of the whole subject. To which is added a collection of gems from the writings of the best authors in prose and verse. The reputation of Dr. Comstock is fully established already, and this work is regarded as a valuable contribution to the class of really meritorious publications before the public. Professor Lawrence has executed his task well, and rendered the work eminently practical as well as instructive.

LEIDA; OR, THE SIEGE OF GRANADA. By Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, Bart. Completed in one volume. Philadelphi: J, B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This volume forms a part of the "Globe Edition, which we have frequently commended for the supurb manner in which the series is executed, both as it regards paper, type and binding. The two Romances, "Siege of Granada," and "alderon," which form its contents, are well known to the admirers of Bulwer. The former, while it may lack the elaboration of plot of some of the Historical Romances of the author, contains scenes and descriptions equal to any of his writings. "Calderon" is somewhat different and indicates traces of tragic power and belongs to a higher grade of passion and art than its companion. The convenient size, beautiful style, and cheapness of this edition, is worthy the attention of book buyers.

FATHER TOM AND THE POPE; or, a night at the Vatican. By the late John Fisher Murray. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson & Brothers. Pittsburgh: W. A. Gildenfenney.

The authorship of this amusing work is in doubt. Several persons are named, but according to Mr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, the writer of the Preface, "Father Tom and the Pope," was written by the late Mr. Murray. This amusing brochure first appeared in Blackwood's Magazine in 1838. At the time it was first published in book form it attracted considerable attention, and the charming manner in which the Peterson's have issued it, with illustrative engravings, cannot fail to make it attractive and cause a large sale.

MY HUSBAND'S CRIME. By M. R. Housekeeper. With illustrations. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

This is an American story, the plot being laid in Boston. The tone is elevated and the characters admirably presented. The excellent illustrations, and its tasteful mechanical execution, type, paper, &c., make it attractive to the eye and pleasant to read.

HUNTED DOWN. By Charles Dickens.
ANTIQUARY. By Sir Walter Scott.

Peterson & Brothers, of Philadelphia, send us through W. A. Gildenfenny, of this city, "Hunted Down"—the nineteenth book of the cheap edition of Charles Dickens' works, and "Antiquary", the fifth book of the Waverly Novels. The former 25 cents and the latter 20 cents. Surely works of this charcharacter, so much above the level of most of the novels published, could not be issued at cheaper rates. Both editions are having a wide circulation.

Death of David Wilmot.

We learn from a private note received by Mr. James H. Webb, Representative in the Legislature from Bradford county, that Hon. David Wilmot died at Towanda, on Monday, 16th inst., and that he will be buried to-day at two o'clock. The first public account we have of the deceased, is as one of the Representatives in Congress from Pennsylvania in 1844. He was the author of the famous proviso attached to the bill appropriating $2,000,000 to carry on the war against Mexico; a proviso which stipulated that no portion of the territory acquired by hat war should be organized as slave States. From the offering of that proviso we may date the slaveholders' resolve to break down the Federal Government. It was the first intimation the slave masters ever received that their machinations to convert the Federal Union into a slave pen would be resisted, and what presents a coincidence in this historic fact, is the point that Mr. Wilmot at the time of his offering the proviso was a staunch friend of the Polk administration, having been the only Democrat in the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress who supported the Polk-Dallas policy of free trade. The struggle on the proviso was fierce and uncompromising. The debate thereon remains on the pages of the Congressional Globe unexcelled in force of statesmanship, legal ability and a courageous devotion to liberty, as displayed by Mr. Wilmot and those who stood by him. John Quincy Adams, then a member of the House, frankly accorded to the author of the proviso the very highest compliments ever received by any member of that body

Galusha A. Grow succeeded Mr. Wilmot in Congress. In 1851 the deceased was elected President Judge of the Bradford Judicial District, which position he held until 1857, when he resigned to accept the nomination for Governor by the Republican party. In 1858 he was re-elected Judge, when a disgraceful effort was made to change the Judicial district in which he presided for the express purpose of gerrymandering him out of his potition.

In 1861 Mr. Wilmot was elected to the United States Senate to fill the unexpired term of Simon Cameron, who was called to the Cabinet of Mr. Lincoln. At the end of two years service in the Senate, Mr. Lincoln appointed the deceased a Judge of the Court of Claims, which position he held at the time of his death.

Few men had a stronger hold on the confidence and respect of his friends and neighbors, while he lived, than David Wilmot. At the bar as a practising lawyer, in Congress as a legislator, on the bench as a Judicial officer, no man who had dealings with or knowledge of David Wilmot ever questioned the honesty of his motives or the fairness of his acts. He possessed qualities which fitted him for the highest station in public affairs. Liberal in his views of the policy of government, just in his legislative course, he was eminently qualified to serve the State and the Nation, having reflected credit on every station to which he was called. By the death of this man Pennsylvania has lost one of her ablest citizens, and Republican principles one of their ablest defenders.—State Guard, 18*th*.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Pittsburgh Annual Conference of the M. E. Church.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, March 19, 1868.

The Conference met this morning at the appointed hour, and was opened with religious services, conducted by J. M. Bray.

The further calling of the roll was, on motion, dispensed with. The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

Rev. Hiram Norton, of the Erie Conference, was introduceed.

The reports of the Trustees of the Pittsburgh Female College, and of Beaver Female Seminary, were presented and referred to the Committee on Education. Both of these institutions are well known to your readers, the former having an almost national reputation, and being among the first educational institutions in the land.

Among the great powers of the M. E. Church are its Book Concerns, located at almost every important point in the country. The report and exhibit of the Concerns located in New York and Cincinnati were read this morning. The following facts and figures will give your readers some idea of the magnitude of these Concerns, as they are called:

At New York there are
Assets	$645,324.14
Liabilities	54,752.44
Net capital stock at New York	$590,571.70
Profits during the year	$62,552.39
Of this amount there was added to the capital stock	35,212.28
Assets at Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis	$571,989.31
Liabilities	111,614.85
Net capital Nov. 30, '67	$460,374.47

Profits for the year, $57,437 17, after paying $10,383 83 for salaries and traveling expenses of Bishops, &c.

The circular of the S. School Union and Tract Society was read. The total statistics for 1867, are Schools, 1,2965; an increase of 1,446; officers and teachers, 171,695; an increase of 9,695; scholars, 1,083,535; an increase of 102,739; volumns in the Library, 2,737,734; an increase of 88,489; conversions, 31,270; a decrease of 12,874.

The Sunday School Journal circulates 24,000 copies monthly; The Sunday School Advocate, 352,500 semi-monthly; The Good News, 53,000 copies monthly. A total of 24,132,000 pages of tract matter was circulated during the year.

Dr. Joseph Smith, former pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Greensburg, Rev. P. H. Moury, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Newville. Rev. J. C. Scofield, pastor of the M. E. Church at New Castle, and Dr. A. J. Kynett, Secretary of the Church Extension Society, were introduced to the Conference. Dr, Kynett made a stirring address in behalf of the society he represents. At the close of the address a collection was lifted amounting to three hundred and thirty-one dollars. One hundred of this amount was contributed by C. Thorn, to what is known as the Loan Fund. A word of explanation will not be deemed out of place by your readers with regard to the remainder. During the war Rev. David Young, a Local Preacher in Atlanta, Georgia, was compelled to flee to New Jersey. On his return, at the close of the rebellion, his own church denied him, and informed him that he could not commune. He turned to the "old church," as the M. E. Church is called, and united with it. When it was proposed to build a house of worship for the members of the "old church," Young looked around to see what he could do. Nearly all had been lost by the war. He said to the building committee, "I have a few drugs," (he had formerly owned a fine drug store) "but they are not sufficient to maintain my family. The only thing I have that I can spare is my watch. You can have it if it will do you any good." He then handed over an excellent gold watch, which was forwarded to Philadelphia for sale. Some of the brethren there proposed to contribute two hundred dollars, the estimated value of the watch, and have the privilege of returning it to the donor; The suggestion was afterwards made to permit others to contribute to a "Watch Fund," and to secure enough money to purchase the lot for the new church, and possibly enough to pay for its erection. Your correspondent saw the watch. It is doing a good work for the Church Extension Society, whether a good time-keeper or not.

The report of the Committee on Conference Plan for Distributing Necessitous Funds, laid on the table yesterday, and made the order of the day for this morning at ten o'clock, was taken up, and, on motion, again laid on the table, and the whole plan of finances referred to the Stewards.

Rev. W. K. Brown afterwards presented a financial plan, which was referred in the same way.

The election of delegates to the General Conference was made the order of the day for Monday morning next at ten o'clock. There is a strong movement to reconsider and change the time to Saturday morning, as the postponement to Monday will delay the time of adjournment at least one day. Saturday morning no doubt will be selected.

The second question of the General Minutes, viz: Who remain on trial? was taken up, and Allen H. Norcross, George A. Sheets, James E. Williams, D. K. Stevenson, W. L. Dixon, R. M. Fruhuater, W. H. Bayne, Robt. J. White, J. D. Leggitt and John H. Doan were examined, passed, and on motion, continued on trial.

The Deacons of the second class were examined, passed and continued on trial. A. R. Chapman, William Pittinger and W. H. Morton, Deacons of the first class, were examined, passed and elected to Elders' orders.

The examination of effective Elders was next taken up, and the characters of the preachers in the Pittsburgh, Blairsville, Uniontown and Washington districts examined and passed. Revs. S. P. Woolf, T. McCleary, A. J. Endsley and W. A. Davidson, the Presiding Elders of the districts named, gave cheering accounts of the prosperity of the Church in their respective fields of labor.

A great many new churches have been erected, some of them fine specimens of architectural taste, and thousands of new converts have united with the Church. The year has been one of wonderful prosperity, and the net increase of the denomination for the year will probably reach one hundred and fifty thousand. OLIN.

Topics and Gossip at the Capital.

Gossips say that Secretary Seward, before he left for Auburn, expressed the opinion to his private Secretary that Wade would be President before June, and that Senator Sumner would be at the head of State Department. Republicans here do not believe Sumner would leave the Senate for any other place.

It is announced to-day that the effect of the decision in the Supreme Court yesterday on the illegality of the per capita passenger tax on railroads will have the effect of cheapening the fare between this city and New York.

The manufacturers of petroleum are endeavoring to have the tax removed from their business, but with small propects of success, as, if they are relieved from taxation, the gas companies must be.

The feeling that Alabama should not be made an exceptional case and admitted in the face of the expressed terms of the law, is growing stranger every day. At every step in the progress of this bill since its introduction some opposition has been manifested, but as there has been no definite line of action suggested in reference to the admission of the Southern States, it is proposed by some to have a caucus at which the best plan may be determined upon.

Jerry Black admits freely to his friends that he has a difficult job on hand to defend Mr. Johnson. Last night he said to one: "Now you see, we of the defence are bound to go in pretty strong on the constitution, and nine chances out of ten some of these Managers will quote the President's words on us, "When you hear a man prating about the constitution, spot him."

Advices from Mississippi state that it will be carried for the proposed constitution.

Thad. Stevens is feeble, but says he means to live till Ben. Wade is President

There ueed be no fears that Hancock will incite the President to make resistance to Congress, or that he will join any copperhead plot to overthrow the government.

The democrats say McArdle will be released, and the written opinion will be reserved till the next term of the Court, when the Presidential election will be over.

The expansionists feel sore over their decisive defeat in the House. The Pennsylvania democrats voted against expansion. Butler voted with Ingersoll for additional greenbacks. It goes to the ways and means committee, where it will sleep till after the impeachment trial is ended. Expansion got forty-nine votes and there were seventy-three against it. It is decisive for the present.

The Governments interested in the Danish and Samana Bay treaties have expressed an earnest desire that they should be informed of the intention of the United States Government as soon as possible. Mr. Sumner will endeavor to get them disposed of at next meeting. It is expected that the Committee will report both treaties adversely.

General Thomas is being urged by several army friends to return to the President his commission as Secretary of War ad interim.

The House Managers desire to have the President's trial commenced next Wednesday, but it will probably not fairly begin for a fortnight, or perhaps more.

The idea of admitting Alabama to representation in Congress has been abandoned for the present.

The United States Supreme Court will shortly adjourn, and the important cases touching the constitutionality of certain acts of Congress will not be decided until next December.

The Democretic organ is out in favor of Chase for the nomination of that party for Presidential honors.

It is now thought that the impeachment trial will be over by May.

Mr. Johnson spends most of his time with Mr. Stanbery and other members of his counsel. He seems to have some hope of making a strong defence, and it is believed that he will use some novel tactics which will surprise the managers, and possibly put Mr. Bingham to his trumps to fairly combat.

Gov. Brownlow telegraphs to Stanton that he can take care of the K. K. K., and all other rebel concerns, without aid from the Government, at least for the present.

The postponement of the Alaska appropriation matter until May excites considerable comment in diplomatic circles. The action of the Committee derives its principal significance from the fact that by the terms of the treaty, the purchase money is required to be paid at the treasury at Washington within ten months from its ratification. The ratifications were exchanged on the 20th of June last, and the ten months expire on the 20th of April, several weeks before the Committee even propose to consider the subject.

A FALLACY.

Some people think that Chronic Dyspepsia may be cured by exercise and diet alone. This is a mistake. The stomach must be stimulated and regulated, and the liver and the discharging organs put in good working order before a cure can be effected. Such is the operation of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

"They tone the stomach, set the liver right,
And put the stomach in such healthful plight,
That good digestion waits on appetite."

Many persons fancy that Fever and Ague can be avoided by adopting unusual precautions against damp and cold. Never was there a greater fallacy. There is no absolute safeguard against malarious maladies, except HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

"To brace the frame, and make it ague-proof,
To keep the causes of disease aloof."

There is nothing like this genial vegetable invigorant. So, too, in cases where there is a predisposition to biliousness; the constitutional tendency is combated and held in check by the alternate action of the BITTERS.

Diet and regimen are powerful allies of judicious medical treatment when the preservation of health in insalubrious localities is the object in view; but they will not answer the desired end alone. Use them as aids to the BITTERS, but do not rely upon the efficacy of any formula that does not include this admirable tonic. The BITTERS consist of an unadulterated vegetable essence (unrivalled among stimulants,) medicated solely with herbs and roots of acknowledged virtue as tonics. It is agreeable to the taste and perfectly harmless. Even to children of delicate constitutions it may be given with perfect impunity. In fact, with these, as with those of older growth, its wonderful recuperant properties are at once apparent.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Whilst these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—I, JOSEPH H. GRAY, Register for the Probate of Wills, and granting Letters of Administration, in and for the County of Allegheny, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to THOMAS McCOMBS, Administrator of all and singular the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of ROBERT McCOMBS, late of Plum Township, Allegheny county, deceased, greeting:

Whereas, the said Robert McCombs lately died intestate (as is affirmed) having whilst he lived, and at the time of his decease, divers goods and chattels, rights and credits, within the said county, by means whereof the full disposition and power of granting Letters of Administration thereof is manifestly known to belong to me; I, therefore, desiring that the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of the same deceased, may be well and truly administered, converted and disposed of according to law, do hereby grant unto the said THOMAS McCOMBS (in whose fidelity I very much confide,) full power by the tenor of these presents, to administer the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of the said deceased, within the said county; as also to ask, collect, levy, recover and receive the credits whatsoever of the said deceased, which at the time of his death, were owing, or did in any way belong to him, and to pay the debt to which the said deceased stood obliged, so far forth as the goods and chattels, rights and credits, will extend, according to the rate and order of law especially of well and truly administering the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of said deceased, and making a true and perfect inventory and conscionable Appraisement thereof, exhibiting the same into the Register's Office, at Pittsburgh, on or before the Nineteenth day of April next ensuing, and also a just and true account, calculation and reckoning of your administration, upon your solemn oath or affirmation, to render at or before the Nineteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, or when legally thereunto required. And I do, by these presents, ordain, constitute and depute you, the said THOMAS McCOMBS, Administrator of all and singular the goods and chattels, rights and credits, which were of the said deceased, within the limits aforesaid, saving harmless and forever indemnifying me, and all other officers, against all persons, by reason of your administration aforesaid, and all others their rights, and to comply with the provisions of the Act of Assembly of this Commonwealth, relating to collateral inheritances.

In testimony whereof, I have caused the seal of said office to be hereunto affixed, dated at Pittsburgh aforesaid, the Nineteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended, it is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

Gold remained firm all day at about 138½ to 139¾, and opened strong at that bid. The pressure for money was less felt early in the day, but towards the close of banking hours, sharp seven was paid for call loans and a commission besides. In consequence, Government securities were pressed on the market, and closed dull at a decline of ½ to ¾ per cent., with large offerings. The decline is, however, artificial, and at the lower rates the investment demand is increasing, especially for Five Twenties of 1864 and 1865 (old) issue. At the lower rates, with exchange at 109¾, (long) bonds can again be shipped, since quotations have advanced for United States bonds in the European markets.

Stocks are firmer, and have recovered from the panicky condition existing a few days ago; the fight for the control of the Railroads leading from New York and connecting with the great Pacific lines, has ended by the defeat of the monopoly seekers, and money may flow in its usual channels at the normal condition of affairs.

In the western larger cities money is more in demand, and the manufacturing interests of Pennsylvania will require all the money the banks are able to furnish at any price. Manufacturers looked to an issue of additional National Bank currency as the best means of reviving their business, next to abolishing the manufacturers tax, but it is likely that before any new measures are adopted by Congress they will find it to their interest to resume operations, be satisfied with a reasonable profit, and make up by economizing in their internal arragements of the work-shops, utilizing a large per centage of the raw material, and employ none but skilful workmen.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz:

Gold, 138⅜; 1881 bonds, 110⅜; 1862 5-20s, 110; 1864 do, 107½; 1865 do, 107¾; Consols, 106¾; 10-40s, 100¾; 7-30s, 105¾.

—The New York Tribune, of Wednesday, reports the money market as follows:

Money has been in sharp demand throughout the day. The stringeney has not been greater in stock circles for years. Seven per cent. was the lowest rate named, and stocks were turned at large differences for three days' option. The demand continued until after the close of bank hours, when houses in good credit were unable to make up their accounts, and as high as ¼ per cent. was paid beside the legal interest for funds until to-morrow.

The same paper also states that the Controller of the Currency is in the city to hear the evidence about the Farmers' and Citizens Bank of Brooklyn, which was closed a short time ago for not keeping up its greenback reserve. By special act of Congress, the bank cannot be reopened except it shall produce proof satisfactory to the Controller that the interests of the public will be fully protected, and that the depositors of the will be paid in full on demand. To examine and decide on the evidence laid before him on these points, Mr. Hulburd is here to-day. The decision, with the evidence, will, we trust, be promptly published.

—The Philadelphia Ledger of Wednesday says: The demand for money keeps up pretty well, and is not likely to become more easy until after the April quarterly statements of the banks have been made out. Call loans rule at 6 to 7 per cent. on approved collaterals, and notwithstanding the banks discount liberally for their customers at bank rates, some considerable amount of commereial paper is offering at 7 to 8 per cent. per annum discount, and miscellaneous paper at 10 to 12 per cent.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, March 19, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was a little more active to-day, and while there is a growing firmness, prices are not quotably higher. We can report sales of 400 to 500 bbls, to be delivered on present water, at 8½c; 1000 for June, at 9¼c; 3000 for May, at 9c; and 2000 for June, on private terms. From the above it will be seen that spot oil may be fairly quoted at 8½c; May at 9c, and June at 9¼c; all the year, buyer's option, in the absence of sales, is nominal at 11½c to 12c; and same delivery, seller's option, at 8½ to 9c. We are cognizant of several thousand barrels having been bought at Oil City today on Pittsburgh account at $3, which, at present prices here, will barely pay the cost of transportation and attending charges.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is quiet but firm, and while there are plenty of buyers, sellers are remarkably scarce. We have but a single sale to report, 500 barrels for May, at 26c; and we are cognizant of an offer to buy June and July together at 27c, which offer was refused. All March may be quoted at 24½c to 24¾c; April at 25 to 25½c; May at 26c, and June at 26½c to 27c. All the year, buyer's option, in the absence of sales, at 31c to 32c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, March 9, 1868.

The general markets are moderately active and steady, and while there is a fair local demand for most of the leading commodities, prices are without quotable change.

GRAIN—Wheat is steady with but little offering; we continue to quote at $2,43 to $2,45 for Red, and $2,53 to $2,55 for White. Barley is scarce and in steady demand at $2 to $2,10. Rye is scarce and active demand at $1,65 to $1,70, in first hands, and $1,75 to $1,80, in store. Corn is unchanged; sale of 150 bags Shelled, on wharf, at 95c, and 157 do at 97c. Oats firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at 69@71c, on track, and 73 to 75c, in store.

FLOUR—Is steady, with a fair local demand but unchanged. We continue to quote at $10,50@11,25 for Spring Wheat; $12 @12,50 for Winter Wheat, and $14@15 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is firm at $8,25 per barrel, and Buckwheat is steady at $4,50 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady at 11½@ 11¾c for Shoulders; 13½@15c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 17@17½c for Sugar Cured Hams, and 16½c for Breakfast Bacon. Lard is unchanged; prime kettle rendered is quoted at 15¾@16c, in tierces, and 16½c, in kegs. Mess Pork, $25@25,50. Dried Beef, 21½ @22c.

BUTTER—Is scarce and in good demand but unchanged; we continue to quote prime to choice Roll at 48 to 52c.

EGGS—Quoted at 27 to 28c.

HAY—Is firm but unchanged; from country wagons it may be quoted at $18 to $25, as to quality. Sales of baled on wharf at $21.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches are firm but unchanged; small sales of halves at 11 to 11¼c. Apples, 7 to 8c.

CRANBERRIES—Quoted at $15 to 17.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, March 19, 1868.

CATTLE.

The Cattle market has been remarkably quiet during the past week, the sales all told only reaching nineteen head since the date of our last report. The offerings were very meagre, though as an offset against that there were very few buyers, and nearly all of the Cattle on sale were shipped on owners account. As there was nothing done worthy of the name, it is impossible to give quotations, though it may be remarked that, in consequence of adverse reports from the east, it would be difficult to effect sales at the prices prevailing for some time past.

SHEEP.

There has been a fair business done in this class of stock during the past week, though prices are without quotable change, ranging from 4½ to 7c, gross, for inferior to prime fat mutton Sheep. Really, extra Sheep, averaging 100 pounds and upwards, fat and smooth, would doubtless have brought a half to three-quarters above the outside quotation above named.

A SPRING OPENING.

The rooms of Madame Pinchon in Bleeker street, was crowded yesterday by the fashionable and fastidious, eager to inspect the designs so long considered the most original and refined in the city. Most of the dresses showed some modification of the panier style now coming in fashion. The back widths of the skirts were full, and looped or puffed to give the outline once known as the tournure or bustle, which, to the regret of tasteful persons, is again brought into use. The size this appendage attained when first worn in the reign of Louis XVI. suggested the idea of panniers concealed under the dress. It is to be hoped our eyes will be spared the cruelty of beholding such deformities.

The front and side widths of the skirt are closely gored, and often the lower jupe is bordered by a flounce, sometimes closely plaited one way with both edges secured, or vandyked and drawn into a ruffle by a cord run an inch below the upper edge. Sashes are worn both broad and narrow; the newest design drapes them scarf-like about the waist or hips, letting the ends fall separate, or tied loosely once. Tablier fronts, sashes stitched on the width, and triple-flounced skirts were seen. Waists were of natural length, except for ball corsages, which were low and short; sleeves were of the coat shape, easily fitting.

Demi-adjuste jackets with mantilla fronts, and mantilla jackets with sleeves, but no seam under the arms, were shown for street wear, but scarcely a specimen of the polonaise. Suits for promenade had loose or half-fitting jackets, trimmed with narrow satin, rouleaux and medium-width fringes. No loose sleeves were seen or garments of any sort.

The most notable dress displayed was a pigeon gray silk, notable for luster and quality, with plain waist and full train two and a half yards long. The trimming was simple in design, yet highly effective; the skirt bordered by a two inch bias fold of the silk, piped with satin, and set at small intervals with rosettes of quilled silk, the centers of which were grape clusters and leaves in marcasite, or the new polished steel, which is largely used this season for ornament. This is so prepared that it will not tarnish in the air. The side width swept round on the back and were plaited half way up the skirt and held by a large rosette with steel center, the band and medallions coming up on the outside of the shell-like curve. A low Watteau bodice was defined on the high corsage, and the round throat finished by a fringe of gray drops and steel, three inches deep; on the center of the fringe, at the back, was placed a satin bow with rosette and ends of folded silk, each set with three rosettes, and fringed, which fell half way down the back. A bow and rosette with shorter ends was on the bosom. The close sleeves were finished by a bias-band and rosette on the cuff. The price of this elegant dress was $400.

A dress of pink-striped gauze, in hair-lines, with full train, attracted attention by its novel trimming, which was a full fold of pink satin outlining a court train with tunic front in angles of relief, finished by a shaded pink fringe made of quill shavings, which looked like lustrous feather fringe. The bertha was of satin rouleax and quill fringe. In front two crescent puffs at the knee were separated by satin folds; a cluster of pink satin leaves ornamented an angle of the tunic at the side, and a satin sash fell behind.

One of the most distinguished dresses was a black French grenadine, dotted all over with cut jet seed beads, and elaborately trimmed with black guipure sparkling with jet. This disappeared early in the day, and was replaced by another, ingeniously ornamented with small flower patterns in black silk applique, the edges wrought in chain stitch. The gauffred flounce and fichu were thus trimmed with the effect of embroidery.

A seaside dress of white and green silk, striped in hair-lines a half inch apart, had a plain frock, and plaited flounce coming to the side seams; the overdress was apple green mohair, with square necked corsage, the skirt open in front, and rounding away; the back hanging loose in two box plaits from the neck, quilled on the side seams of the skirt with a ruffle.

A black silk walking dress had three narrow vandyked flounces headed by rouleaux of satin and a silk ruffle; the upper skirt was looped high in the back, and caught slightly on the hips; the border was of chantilly lace over two inches wide.

A second black silk suit had staircase trimming of triple satin folds, with rich fringes headed by passementerie on the horizontal lines of the design. The edge was a flounce of flat half-inch plaits, held one way by folds of silk and satin. The demi-adjuste jacket was trimmed with satin, and fringed all around. An outre jacket had a long pointed hood-piece falling below the waist, with knots of black silk up the center of the hood, the long crescent fronts crossing, and the ends carried under the jacket behind, forming a panier drapery on the hips. Only the slenderest of figures could carry this sort of festooning about the hips with any grace. A street garment of black silk was loose, with a deep plaiting set squarely into the skirts in front, a narrow-plaited edge finishing the backs, which are looped behind, and have a plaited belt.

A street suit of pearl-colored poplin had a double skirt, the lower one bordered by five rouleaux of satin, the upper one with five cord-like rolls on each seam, open straight behind, the widths joined by two satin straps across and a fringed bow in the center of each; cord fringe with floss ends all around the upper jupe. The mantilla fronts of the sack were bordered with satin rouleaux, the pointed throat edged with points of gray satin, some shades different from the dress, as was all the trimming, indeed, giving an agreeable contrast. The half-fitting back and close sleeve had three rouleaux on every seam, and the jacket was fringed to match the skirt.

Pretty evening wraps were burnous of white crepe de chine, a delicate wool and silk fabric like the finest thinnest cashmere. These were neither more nor less than wide scarfs folded thrice together on one edge to form hood, and sleeve-like openings for the arm. They were picturesque garments with blue or rose-colored borders wrought in chain-stitch and beads, fringed with white and colored crimped fringes, and tassels drooping from every point. Mantles, suitable for elderly ladies, were of fine black cloth embroidered and fringed in gold, handsome to wear with black silk dresses.

A new mode of ornament for dresses was shown on a lilac grenade robe, which bore twig work and a large pansy spray down the center of each width in applique of shaded silk the same color, neatly stitched on. This applique was observed on several thin dresses.

A white organdy had a deep, finely plaited border, over which fell a piece of horizontal tucking very finely done, cut into battlements, edged with quilled white chantilly, and headed by a wide insertion of the same lace. In front, at the waist, was a short apron of tucking cut in shapes and trimmed with lace; from this a wide scarf of muslin edged with two-inch chantilly floated each side behind, and was looped together by a large rosette of purple satin ribbon. A flounce and waist of muslin were laid alternately in vertical double narrow box plaits spread at the top, and wide insertions of Maltese lace two inches or more apart. A pretty fichu sash were of organdy in fine horizontal tucks edged with valenciennes, and double rows of pointed tucked tabs.

Spring Bonnets and Flowers.

The importers and wholesale dealers in millinery and straw goods have opened their new styles, and there is a prospect of a fair spring trade.

It was rumored that the new bonnets would be a trifle larger than those of last year, but the increase in size is not perceptible; if there is a change, they are smaller. An effort has been made to throw aside the Fanchon, and it has been said that this shape will not be generally exhibited at the coming opening; that the leading style will be the new shape, with low, sloping crown and raised front, having a coronet, which is simply a narrow framework of wire attached to the edge of the front, and slightly sloping backward. It is well known that the Fanchon has injured the millinery business in this country. The good taste and tact of American women enable them to make a pretty Fanchon; all that is requisite is to purchase a frame, and then, with a small piece of lace or velvet, a spray of flowers or vine of leaves, make an attractive bonnet.

The latest style of Paris bonnet is the Fanchon with a diadem or very narrow rim on the front edge, against which the flowers and lace forming the inside trimming rest. There is no other shape that so well becomes all styles of features as the Fanchon, and this is the reason why it has always been a favorite. Then, so long as the newer shapes do not make a pretty face look prettier, and add a charm to a plain one, the Fanchon will be the favorite with the ladies. The raised front and coronet require a bright, pretty face beneath to be effective.

The laces used for decorating the new bonnets, as scarfs and veils, have been imported of every color and shade, to match the materials of which the bonnet is made, and are spangled with gold or crystal, or are frosted, being rich and beautiful. Almost every bonnet has a lace veil, or curtain or scarf is attached. The gilt ornaments, which have been much worn, are going out; small beads or nailheads and crystal pendants will be more used. All the new bonnets recently imported are rich and elegant.

In round hats the usual variety will be brought out. The new ones have higher crowns than those of last year, and wider brims. Some have rolled brims, and one style of high crown slopes up from the brim to a small flat top. Some turban shapes are also among the new straws, but it is yet too early to decide which will be the prevailing style in straws.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Special Meeting—Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Railway—Double Track—The Ordinance, as Amended, Passed.

A special meeting of the Allegheny City Councils was called last evening at the request of the President of the Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway, to take action on the ordinance passed in Select Councils, Thursday evening, March 12th, 1868, granting privilege to said Company to use certain streets in the city, &c. In Select Councils an amendment was adopted prohibiting the Company from placing switches or sidings on North avenue, over which the line will run for a distance of five squares, in which amendment Common Council non-concurred.

Common Council.

Members present: Messrs. Brown, Blair, Cutler, Comley, Fleming, Geyer, Hanna, Hastings, Hochuly, Kennedy, Lindsay, Ley, M'Neill, Ober, Reed, Tate, Voeghtley, White and President Siagle.

The President stated that the meeting had been called at the instance of the Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Railway Company, to take action on the ordinance granting them privilege to use certain streets, passed in Select Council at the last regular meeting, in which Common Council non-concurred.

Mr. Hanna moved that Common Council recede from its former action and concur with Select Council.

Mr. M'Neill objected, as Mr. Hanna had voted with the minority at the last meeting.

Mr. Voegtly, who had voted with the majority, then made a motion to recede and concur with Select Councils.

Mr. Cutler moved to amend by instructing the Company to lay a double track on North avenue.

The President stated that the ordinance as amended by Select Council provided that double track should be laid.

The amendment was not seconded.

Mr. Hastings moved as an amendment that the Company be instructed to lay a double track from Federal to Monterey street.

Mr. Hanna said that the amendment was unnecessary, as the Company contemplated laying a double track on the entire route.

Mr. Hastings withdrew his motion, stating that he had been informed by the President of the Company that they would lay a double track over that part of the route.

The action of Select Council was concurred in by a unanimous vote.

Councils adjourned.

There being no business before Select Council, that body was not convened.

A Stranger Victimized—He Visits a Den of Infamy and is Robbed of $500—One of the Inmates Arrested and Committed for Trial.

Wednesday evening last a gentleman, who for convenience we will call Samuel Russell, hailing from—we don't know where, arrived in the city, and, having plenty of the "needful" with him, determined to "see the elephant." After visiting several places of amusement, at one of which he met a friend, who it appears was slightly acquainted in the city, and from whom he learned of sights in another portion of the city, and having come to the city to see what was to be seen, he turned his steps toward the "Hill" and finally halted at a low den on Duncan street, in the Seventh ward. Having gained admittance, and the appearance of the place suiting him, he resolved to put up for the night; a resolution, however, he had ample cause to regret. He awoke yesterday morning and sought his pocket-book for the purpose of footing the bill for his night's lodging, but, notwithstanding the pocket-book, which contained five hundred dollars, was in his pocket when he retired, it was not there when he arose, and all search failed to discover its whereabouts. Suspicion naturally fell upon the frail creature who had occupied the room with him, but she persistently denied any knowledge of the missing article. He at once repaired to Alderman Lindsay's office and made information charging Mary Whale with the larceny of the money. She was arrested and after a hearing committed to jail in default of bail, for her appearance at Court. Truly, "experience is a dear school," and if Russell has not had enough of it to know better than to carry so much money with him on such occasions, he deserves to lose it. To add to his misfortunes, he also was sent to jail in order to secure his appearance at the trial.

A Heartless Mother Deserts Her Child.

Tuesday evening last, a well dressed woman, having with her a little child about eight months old, called at a house in Sample's Row, Allegheny, where she applied for and obtained lodgings. She stated that her husband was absent on business, and that she preferred boarding to keeping house during his absence. She appeared to be very fond of her child, whose name she said was Johnny. Wednesday morning, after breakfast, she left the child in charge of some member of the family, stating that she wished to do some shopping, but would be back before dinner. She put on her wrappings and left the house, since when nothing has been heard of her. Mr. McGonnigle, Director of the Poor of Allegheny City, was informed of the circumstance yesterday morning, and at once took charge of the little waif, thus left upon the charities of the world, and after christening him "Johnny Grant," placed him in the City Home. Every effort has been made to discover who the mother was, but without success.

That Land Slide.

We were called on to make correction of a very important error in our report yesterday of the extensive land slide on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, at the Forge of Everson, Preston & Co. We stated that the company had made an offer to the firm for the vacation of the land occupied by the mill property. It seems the firm alone made overtures towards vacation. Inasmuch as legal proceedings are pending in the Court for the adjustment of the difficulty experienced at that part of the road, we make this correction to disabuse the public mind so that an impartial trial may be afforded. It might be pert to remark that the best feeling exists between the officials of the Railroad and Everson, Preston & Co. Without hesitation the latter generously vacated part of their mill yesterday, and permitted the company to swing their track through its centre in order that travel might not be obstructed by the tons of debris resting on the old track.

Extensive Forgeries—Several Banks and Business Houses Victimized.

A report of extensive forgeries having been committed recently by a resident of this city is in circulation. It is stated that he victimized a wholesale grocery house on Liberty street to the amount of $2,200; a butcher in the Diamond market, $1,900; a banking firm in this city, $500, and a bank in Allegheny, $500. In addition to the above several private gentlemen were "taken in and did for." The police have the case in hand.

Perjury.—August Buckhouse appeared before Alderman Thomas, a few days ago, and charged George Dishler with wilful and corrupt perjury. The information was urged by the prosecutor's attorney, Judge Shannon. It is alleged that in a recent hearing before the United States Court the said Dishler swore that he had seen at the brewery of Michael Theiken, in Pitt township, Mr. Theiken, August Buckhouse, Henry Pifefer and Joseph Jones apply revenue stamps which had been been used before, which is declared to be false. The defendant was arrested and held to bail for a hearing,

THE COURTS

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the bankruptcy branch of this Court petitions for final discharge were presented by M. W. McAnnick, Jefferson county; Edward Hattan, Cameron county; John Cobb, Ridgway, Elk county. The usual orders were made.

Julius Reidelsheimer, of Johnstown, against whom a petition had been filed, was adjudged a bankrupt, having failed to make any defence to the allegations of acts of bankruptcy made in the petition of creditors.

A petition was filed by George S. Head, praying that James Johnston, of Pittsburgh, be adjudged a bankrupt, and March 25th fixed for the hearing on the rule to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

Voluntary petitions for adjudication in bankruptcy were filed by Hiram D. Turner and Aaron C. Switzer, McKean county, Penna.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

The case of Crispin Dorer vs. Borough of Birmingham occupied the entire session without being concluded.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

The case of Lindsay vs. Lindsay et al went to the jury, but no verdict was rendered at adjournment.

George Diming vs. Edward Allen. Action for damages resulting to a carriage during the construction of sewer on Wood street. On trial.

A motion for a new trial was made in the case of Jane. B. Holmes vs. N. Pusey et al.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Henry Sands, Henry Charles, John Sherry, John Harper, Edward Turley and William Darragh, indictment riot, taken up on Wednesday, the jury found a verdict of not guilty, the prosecutor, John A. Watson, to pay one half the costs, and Henry Charles, John Sherry, John Harper, E. Turley and William Darragh to pay the other half.

Charles Harrold pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor on Sunday, and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and undergo an imprisonment of ten days in the county jail,

Benjamin Johnson, colored, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the larceny of a cast iron furnace valued at seventy-five dollars, from the carriage factory of Christian Yeager. He was sentenced to return the property stolen and to ten days imprisonment in the county jail.

Henry Weidner was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with rape, on oath of Mrs. Kezziah Evans, residing on Joseph street, in East Birmingham borough. The prosecutrix testified that she was a married woman, but that her husband had not lived with her any time since their marriage. On the night of December 13th, 1867, she stated the defendant came to her house, broke a hole in the door with a stone, entered through the hole, and ran up stairs; after a while he assailed her, dragged her down stairs and committed the offense charged. Mrs. E. said she struggled with all her might, but the defendant, being a strong man, overpowered her. For the defense evidence was adduced to show that the prosecutrix kept a disreputable house, and that she was unworthy of belief under oath. On trial.

E. A. Patterson and George Evans, the persons charged with attempting to rob J. L. Linton, revenue agent, at the Monongahela House, were brought in from prison and discharged, the Grand Jury having ignored the bill in their case.

Henry Thebali, in jail for surety, was brought out and discharged, at the instance of the Grand Jury, to whom his case had been presented. It seems that he had been in jail previously, but was rearrested and committed immediately following his release. He is unable to speak a word of English, and seemed to be the victim of persecution.

Dr. Quincy A. Scott's Dental Establishment, No. 278 Penn Street.

Dr. Quincy A. Scott, whose dental establishment, at 278 Penn street, is favorably known to all of our readers, and which is thoroughly complete in all of its departments and laboratories, announces a great reduction in price to take effect immediately. He will supply to his patrons full and beautiful sets of teeth, faultlessly made and finished in the very best style of dental art and mechanism at prices ranging from ten dollars upwards. There are hundreds of persons in this neighborhood who can bear testimony to the superior quality of the work executed at this establishment, and which has given it such high rank and place among the leading dental depots of the country. Dr. Scott is assisted by a full and competent force, some of whom have largely contributed towards the advancement of the science to which they are attached and devoted. As a special feature worthy of note, it may be observed that Dr. Scott makes no charge for the extraction of teeth (without pain) when artificial sets are ordered. Satisfaction is guaranteed in all work, and all the details peculiar to the profession are attended to in the most skillful and artistic manner, at very reasonable prices. We earnestly commend Dr. Scott to the confidence and patronage of our friends desiring the services of a careful and experienced dentist,

Prize Medal Sewing Machines—What Are They Worth?

Ever since the award of premiums at the Paris Exposition, the public have been bored with statements concerning the claims of the Howe, the Florence, the Weed, the Wheeler & Wilson, and the Grover & Baker manufacturing companies to the first honors (?) of that affair. The machines of each of these companies are claimed to be the best because the manufacturers received a medal or a ribbon to that effect. And so many obtained the same prize we can't see where the honor comes in. Now, the Singer Sewing Machine was not placed on exhibition at the World's Fair in Paris, for the very good reason that it does not depend upon medals or ribbons for its success. The merits of this machine rest upon its ever faithful performance of all that is claimed for it, and having been adequately used in all parts of the civilized world, and awarded the people's verdict in its favor, it can well afford to stand aside and let its feeble rivals find what they can in the worthless awards of fair committees. It is a fact that the Singer Machine has been less advertised than any other, and yet so highly is it esteemed that only last year, (1867,) for example, five thousand more machines of the Singer patents were sold than other machines now before the public. The simple and natural increase of the business of the Singer Company for 1867 was seven thousand machines, which increase is equal to three times the entire sales of the Empire Company, and nearly twice the entire sales of the Weed Company for the same period. In the same year the businsss of the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company fell off twelve thousand. These are facts which will stand investigation, but we doubt whether the manner in which medals and ribbons of the Fairs are obtained will bear any scrutiny at all. Wonderful improvements have been made in the Singer Sewing Machine, and it is now the best machine for family and manufacturing purposes. Its sales in this vicinity are already very large, and the demand is still increasing. It is light, durable, simple and noiseless, and ought to find a place in every family in the land. Straw & Morton, General Western Agents, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets.

Birmingham Politics.

No doubt the Republicans of the borough of Birmingham will carry their ticket successfully through to-day. The candidate for Burgess, Mr. M. B. Hartzell, is a gentleman widely known and respected, and of his capability and efficiency there can be no doubt. His selection to lead the ticket was a good one, and will commend itself to the thoughtful voters of all parties. Messrs. Redman, Atterberry, Kaestner and Duncan are the regular Republican candidates for Council. They are capable and worthy citizens, and in their keeping the interests of the borough will be carefully and faithfully guarded. The other Republican candidates are worthy hearty and united support, and there is no good reason why every gentleman on the ticket should not be elected by a large and decisive majority.

Millvale Borough.

At a special meeting of the Council of this Borough, Wednesday evening, Mr Brown, from Ordinance Committee, reported an ordinance assessing on all one-horse vehicles a tax of three dollars; two-horse vehicles, five dollars; four-horse six dollars; and fifty cents for each additional horse. Also, an ordinance prohibiting the erection of oil refineries and slaughter-houses within the borough limits. Both these ordinances were adopted. Another ordinance was introduced prohibiting horses and hogs from running at large in the borough, which was laid over till next meeting. Mr. E. A. Reed was elected Clerk of Council, to serve for one year.

Struck a Woman.—David Hastings was charged by Mary McClone, before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, with committing an assault and battery upon her by striking her on the face with his fist. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

"Police Raid."

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE—In your issue of the 16th inst. is a notice of a "Police Raid" on "Fort Maloney," and several other houses of ill-fame, which I think worthy of some attention.

The chief of police by entering these haunts of vice at the hour of midnight, when all was quiet within them, inaugurated a new order of things in police practice. The whole thing has the appearance of dash, and a nicely executed act, but can it effect anything towards abating these sinks of iniquity? Will it have any tendency to reform the vile wretches by arrest, fine and sending them to prisou a few days? For one I think not. The only effect it can have, in my opinion, is to largely increase taxation, should it be followed up. They are hardened and beyond any influence to reach them, but that of law, and this should be enforced against them in its full rigor.

I admit that it is difficult to execute the law against them in its present form, but in order to remove this difficulty I would suggest the propriety of having the Legislature pass a law, making it the duty of the city police and constables to return houses of ill fame to court, just as the latter now return illegal liquor dealers, and then such raids would result in good.

Something should be done, and that soon, to remove this terrible evil from our community.

Under the present law in respect to them, they meet with very little or no opposition.

Their numbers are rapidly increasing in all parts of the city, and are patronized by young and old, rich and poor, in open day, as well as at night, without shame or fear.

This, gentlemen editors, is a state of things which should be deeply deprecated by every good citizen, and lead to immediate efforts for its suppression.

OBSERVER.

Commonwealth vs. Tack's, Schalk and Grierson.

The notice from District Attorney Mann, which we publish below, seems to settle conclusively the doubt raised in yesterday's Gazette about the duty of the numerous witnesses summoned from this city to be in Court at Philadelphia to-day. We understand that ample notice will be given to all concerned, of the precise day when the trial will proceed.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19, 1868.

Read and Heed.

The extraordinary cures performed by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher entitles it to a more than common notice. For the past year it has effected cures of diseases which had baffled the skill and science of the most learned and scientific medical men, and it has done so in pursuance of a wonderful virtue which Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher alone possesses.

It is one of that class of medicines known as alterative or cutrophic, and by a slow but sure process it gradually brings up the strength of the human system to the health standard. It will, after the use of a few bottles, place the stomach in a condition to master and digest the food, and prepare it into chyle, which is at once carried into the circulation of the blood, and that good blood, of a fit quality to rebuild the constantly changing human body. Dr. Keyser, in the introduction of his Blood Searcher, seems to have comprehended the great plan of waste and repair, in the carrying on of the functions of life and health, the rebuilding of the tissues, the supply of membranes, muscle, bone and nerve matter, where the proper quantity of iron or potassia, or phosphorus, or sulphur is needed in the human organism. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher gives to the system the power to select these elementary principles from the food that is taken into the stomach. It places the stomach itself in the highest state of health. It strengthens the liver, and enables it to filter the bile or gall from the blood, and thereby places the liver in a healthy and proper working condition. It heals all the sores in the bowels and inside the body, as readily as it does ulcers on the legs, or cancer, or scrofula, or tetter on the skin. It heals sore or diseased kidneys, and stimulates them to a faithful fulfillment of their proper functions in the human system, and through that channel eliminates all poisonous and morbid matter, which, if allowed to remain in the system would be productive of rheumatism, neuralgia and hundreds of aches and pains which afflict more than one-half of the human family. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher cleanses out the glands, acts on the skin, and restores its proper action when obstructed by colds and exposure.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1868.—J. F. Hoy, Agent for Wolcott's Pain Paint—Dear Sir—In justice to Dr. R. L. Wolcott's great discovery of Pain Paint, for the relief of all kinds of pain instantly, permit me to add my certificate of its wonderful cure and instant relief. I have been suffering with pain in my back for some time, and applied many remedies for its relief, but found none to do me any good. I tried but one application of Pain Paint, and it relieved me instantly, and I have not felt the pain since. I take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer, and would suggest the propriety of the medical profession adopting it in their practice. Yours respectfully, D. VAN WART, M. D.
